Macbeth summary cloze

The play opens with _____ witches discussing the battle. In their conversation they say they will meet _____ out on the _____. In the next scene we meet King _____, who is eager to know what has been going on in the _____. He finds this out from the _____ who has just rescued Duncan's son, Malcolm. Duncan learns that Macbeth has killed the traitor, _____, by slitting him "from the nave to the chaps" and then setting his _____ upon the _____. Macbeth has also fought bravely alongside _____ against Sweno, the King of _____, whom they defeated. The captain has to leave Duncan because he is so severely _____. At the end of the scene Duncan tells his nobles that he is going to make Macbeth _____ of Cawdor. In the next scene, we meet Macbeth and Banquo, who soon come across the witches. They greet Macbeth as Thane of _____, Thane of _____ and King-to-be. They also tell Banquo that his _____ will be kings, although he will not be king himself. The witches then _____. Macbeth and Banquo are not sure what to make of this, but soon Ross arrives and tells Macbeth that he is now Thane of Cawdor. This starts Macbeth thinking and he even imagines the _____ of Duncan. However, he decides that if he is fated to be king, he doesn't have to do _____ about it. However, Macbeth changes his mind a little later when Duncan announces that he is making _____ his heir. Meanwhile, Lady Macbeth has received a _____ from her husband, telling her about the witches' _____. We are surprised to hear her say that she thinks Macbeth is "too full of the _____ of human kindness" to do what is necessary to be king. She learns that Duncan is coming to their _____ that night and starts plotting. She calls upon the spirits to "_____," her, so that she can be ruthless enough to commit murder. Macbeth then arrives and she immediately starts to control his _____. Later, when alone, Macbeth thinks through whether or not to kill Duncan and he comes to the _____ that killing him is a bad idea. When he tells Lady Macbeth, she is furious and accuses him of being a _____. Most disturbingly, she says that if she had promised such a thing she would even kill her own _____ by dashing its _____ out. Oddly this persuades Macbeth! Macbeth then imagines _____.
